ment to Jackson.

The Stonewall Jackson Memorial Association has set aside May 1 as a day for universal contributions to the fund for an equestrian monument in Richmond to the soldier of the Confederacy for whom the association is named, and in whose memory it is now laboring. To accomplish what is desired, the management and direction of the plans for the day have been committed to the Virginia women of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and to other Confederate and memorial associations. This idea received the hearty and unanimous approval of the annual convention of the Virginia Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which met in Richmond last fall.

The joint committee on the Stonewall Jackson Monument is now actively engaged in the preparation of the details for the day and for the collection of funds in all Virginia. The joint committee is composed of the following representatives of the various associations:

The Confederate Memorial and Literary Society—Miss Sallie A. Anderson, Mrs. W. R. Rinchart, Mrs. John Mason. The Jackson Monument Association—Mrs. N. V. Randolph, Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Mrs. C. E. Bolling, Miss Kate Mason Rowland, Miss Anna Boykin.

The committee on site of the Stonewall Jackson Monument and Corporation, Judge D. C. Richardson, chairman, acid a meeting last night in Lee Camp Hall, and considered various propositions as to the site for the equestrian Jackson monument. Public opinion favors some locality on Monument Avenue beyond the Davis Monument, at the crossing of the Boulevard, or of the Roseneath Road.

By barring the general public, the committee opened the way for a conference with leaders of social and religious work in Richmond, as well as with men who know the city from a criminal and police standpoint. A number of practical objec-tions to hasty and ill-considered legislation were brought out, and even the most carnest advocates of the passage of the bill agreed that it should be provided that it would not take effect for some time, in order to give an opportunity for the authorities to prepare to meet conditions. The discussion in committee lasted until midnight, and, when it had been agreed that no bill should be passed to take effect for some time to come, the view was generally expressed that the matter had best be passed by for Delegates Depart for Their Homes.

With most of their work finished delegates to the convention of the Deof Superintendence of National Education Association vesterday afternoon and last night. The few who remained will leave today, some going on an excursion to Hampton, and others to Charlottes-ville. Those who go to Hampton will continue to Norfolk or Old Point, and take the boats for the North. Stopover privileges will be given those who go by way of Charlottesville, so that they may have an opportunity of seeing the University of Virginia. The convention is declared to have been the most successful in the his-tory of the department. More than 2,000 delegates came and were reg-istered, and there were several hundred visitors who were not accounted delegates, and so were not registered. It was decidedly the largest conven-tion Richmond has ever had. Several parties went to the University of Virginia, and others went to Williams-burg and from there to Jamestown Is-land, the "cradle of the nation." The women of the convention were entertained yesterday afternoon at the Conlederate Museum.
